Searching for Augusta: The Forgotten Angel of Bastogne
by Martin King

Searching for Augusta: The Forgotten Angel of Bastogne tells the little-known story of Augusta Chiwy, a black nurse from Africa, and her heroic service at a U.S. military aid station during the opening days of the Battle of The Bulge. Her remarkable story of bravery went untold for 65 years, until historian and author Martin King tracked her down and wrote a book celebrating her heroism. Augusta Chiwy passed away on August 23, 2015 in Belgium at the age of 94. The book is a remarkable true story of this previously unsung hero, whose compassion and unwavering courage helped save countless American soldiers. The book also tells the story of a young U.S. Army doctor, Jack Prior, whose bravery, resiliency and resourcefulness was nothing short of remarkable under the worst of war conditions. Augusta Chiwy's story is one of courage, compassion, and great individual heroism in the face of bigotry and racial discrimination. Her story is a story of the best of the human spirit in the worst of times. This is not only a little-known story of the Battle of the Bulge, but also the author’s own relentless mission to locate Augusta and bestow upon her the honors she so richly deserved.
